Gifts for the King Project Promotes Scholarship Fund

Bryan's $20,000 scholarship program is underwritten each year through the GIFTS FOR THE KING solicitation which is geared to coincide with the traditional giving of gifts at the Christmas season. What cause could be more worthy of the support of Christian people than the training of Christian young men and women not only for full-time Christian service but also for full-time Christian living?

Some seventy students have been given free grants in aid this year through the Bryan scholarship program, with an additional large number of students qualifying for Economic Opportunity Grants through the government student aid program in which Bryan College is participating. An additional benefit of participation in the government financial aid program has been the doubling of the wage in the student work program. The government's program of financial aid is set up principally on a matching-fund basis, which requires that all college financial aid must be continued on the same level of participation as in previous years.

Another form of college financial aid to students is known as "the cost of educational opportunity," or the difference between the amount the student pays per year and the amount that it actually costs the college to provide the student with his educational opportunity. This amount, based on our enrollment for 1966-67 and the operating budget for this same period, is approximately $400 for each student enrolled in Bryan College.

The combination of our various financial aid programs totals more than $130,000 which Bryan College must raise in gift income this year. Therefore, the College is greatly dependent upon the financial support of

35th Annual Bible Conference Dates Set

Rev. Philip R. Newell, of Moody Bible Institute in Chicago; Dr. S. Lewis Johnson, of Dallas Theological Seminary; and Dr. John B. Bartlett, of Malone College in Canton, Ohio, are the featured guests for the thirty-fifth annual Bible conference at Bryan College which opens Sunday afternoon, January 22, and continues through Friday noon.

Dr. Bartlett

The Reverend Mr. Newell is a Bible teacher on the extension staff of Moody and regularly conducts Bible classes and seminars in the Midwest. He joined the Moody extension staff in 1956. Prior to this time he was associated with the Institute in several other capacities: as sales manager for Moody Press, director of the Moody correspondence school and dean of student affairs. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan and was general manager of a Detroit manufacturing firm for nineteen years. His father was Dr. William R. Newell, eminent Bible teacher and expositor.

Dr. Johnson is professor of New Testament Literature and Exegesis at Dallas Theological Seminary. A native of Birmingham, Ala., he graduated from Charleston College in Charleston, S. C., and has done graduate work at Southern Methodist University and at the University of Edinburgh in Scotland and has studied at the University of Basel in Switzerland. He was converted under the ministry of Donald Grey Barnhouse. He received his Master of Theology and Doctor of Theology degrees from Dallas Seminary in 1946 and 1949 respectively.

Dr. Bartlett, who will conduct the music during the conference, is no stranger to the Bryan campus, having served as dean of men and speech teacher for four years from 1956 to 1960. He joined the Malone College faculty from the speech department of the Ohio State University in Columbus, in which city he had a daily radio program and was a minister of music in a local church. At Malone he is chairman of the division of language and literature. Dr. Bartlett completed a master's program in discussion and rhetoric at Ohio State and took his doctorate in rhetoric and public address. He also did graduate work in speech at the University of Chattanooga.

Each winter for the past several years, Dr. Bartlett and his wife Ruth have been featured artists of the Gold Coast Concert Series in Boca Raton, Fla.

Bryan Introduces Journal of Timely Christian Topics

The first issue of a new publication by Bryan College will be released in January 1967. The BRYAN BLUEPRINT is a journal of contemporary Christian thought to be issued bi-monthly. The objective of the BLUEPRINT is to bring to the attention of the busy professional and business man the meaning of today's events in the light of what God has to say in His holy Word.

The BLUEPRINT will deal with such questions as: What we as Christians should think of our involvement in the war in Viet Nam, and the draft, especially if our boy may be called? What should be our attitudes toward the race issue or better, toward individuals of other races? What is the meaning for the average man of the ever-changing religious teachings of theologians, the pronouncements of councils, and the ecumenical movement? Are there any guiding principles for business decisions? Should the Christian obey all laws? How should the doctor deal with the dying patient? How should a man treat his wife, order his family, and govern his children's activities? What about the education of the Christian parents' children?

Articles will be written by leading men in their field, as well as by members of the Bryan College faculty. The editors of the BLUEPRINT solicit timely material, suggested topics of discussion, and names and addresses of those who might benefit from reading the BLUEPRINT. Send any suggestions to Editor, BRYAN BLUEPRINT, Bryan College, Dayton, Tennessee 37321.

its Christian constituency. The Gift-for-the-King solicitation letter was mailed just before Thanksgiving. We hope you will read it prayerfully and then respond in whatever way the Lord may lead you.

Trustee Emeritus Honored

Mrs. J. S. Frazier, trustee emeritus of Bryan, was guest of honor of the College on Thanksgiving Day in celebration of her eightieth birthday. She served for eighteen years as a trustee, retiring in 1962 at her own request. Mrs. Frazier has stated that her association with Bryan through the years has influenced her own spiritual growth and development, particularly the Bible teaching she received under Dr. Charles H. Currens, who was professor of Bible from 1931 until his death in 1939.

A Bible teacher in her own right, Mrs. Frazier has taught the Volunteer Sunday school class for women at the First Methodist Church for nearly forty years. Recently, by vote of the members, this class was renamed the Ellen H. Frazier Bible Class. She was also honored with a special dinner by her class, when she was presented with a gift of money to be given to a Christian cause of her choice. Mrs. Frazier is known to a wide circle of the Bryan family and her clear teaching of the Scriptures has been a Christian testimony to the entire community. She is a frequent attendee of college events and retains an active interest in the affairs of the college.

A native of Rhea County, she is a descendant of the pioneer Hoyal family. Her grandfather, the late Dr. John Hoyal, physician and businessman, was one of the leading citizens of the county. He walked all the way to Philadelphia to attend Jefferson Medical College. During his career as a physician, a number of young men came to study medicine under him. Mrs. Frazier's husband, James, was also a descendant of a pioneer family and a leader in county affairs, including three terms as sher-

New Academic Facilities Planned for Main Building

The construction project of new science laboratories and new classrooms for other departments, to be located on the top floor of the administration building, is scheduled to get underway second semester. The activation of this project was voted by the trustees in their meeting of October 3. The planning has been carried out during the past year under the direction of Dr. Orin B. Graff of the School Planning Laboratory of the University of Tennessee, and the project is now in the hands of the college architect, Selmon T. Franklin Associates of Chattanooga, for detailed plans and specifications.

The new construction is designed to include five science laboratories and at least ten classrooms of varying size. Two laboratories are provided for biology (general and advanced), two in chemistry (general and organic), and one in physics. The new classrooms and also the laboratories will be equipped according to their use.

The new academic area formerly used for a women's dormitory also provides for expansion of the present library at the south end. The total area, more than 22,000 square feet, has been planned, with proper utilization, to accommodate classes in all departments except physical education and music for a minimum student body of 600-800. It is expected that at least one-half of the area is to be ready for use next fall.

Whether the entire project or only half can be completed by next fall depends on financing. Those interested in helping underwrite this important improvement may earmark their gifts for this purpose. One of the highlights of this improvement plan is the student body project to raise $10,000 to equip the general biology laboratory. Of this amount, the students have raised about $4,000 to date.

iff of the county. He died in 1937. Mrs. Frazier has two sons, Jack, Dayton's postmaster, and Hoyal, an insurance executive of Miami, Fla.

"A woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised.
Give her of the fruit of her hands;
and let her own works praise her in the gates."

Proverbs 31:30, 31.

Senior Students Given National Recognition

Seven Bryan seniors have been selected for inclusion in the annual listing of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities for 1966-67.

Students are selected for the honor by vote of the faculty and administration on the basis of outstanding citizenship and scholarship during their attendance at Bryan.

He has participated in many of the college's sports programs and was co-captain of Bryan's soccer team this year. During the summer of 1964 he traveled as part of a men's quartet representing the college.

Homegoing of Retired Bible Teacher Announced

The homegoing on May 17 of Dr. Alma F. Rader, retired Bryan Bible teacher, was announced to most of our constituency through various communications. However, we wish to share this announcement with all our friends who read NEWSETTE.

Dr. Rader taught at Bryan over 20 years before she retired here in Dayton and shared the home of our friend and trustee, Mrs. E. B. Arnold. Miss Rader was confined in the hospital for more than eleven months before her death, suffering from emphysema. Her confidence in the Lord and testimony to His faithfulness were a continued expression of her life until the closing days.

2nd Generation Increases Student Roster

Bryan alumni continue to provide a strong arm of support for the college in establishing contacts for new students. Among them is an increased number of alumni sons and daughters who are choosing their parents' Alma Mater.

The accompanying picture presents fifteen members of this year's student body, who have one or both parents that attended Bryan.

Irene Wilson, daughter of Paul and Dorothy (White) '40 Wilson, Phoenix, Ariz.; John deRosset, son of John deRosset x'37, missionary to Central African Republic, and the late Agnes (Copeland) '36 deRosset; Diane Wyllie, daughter of Albert '44 and Gwendolyn (Hay) '45 Wyllie, New Orleans, La.; Barbara Gail Peck, daughter of Earl x'49 and Lillian (Borgard) '45 Peck, Rolling Meadows, Ill.; and Virginia Broughton, daughter of Eugene '65 and Mattie Broughton, of Bakewell, Tenn.

Basketball Schedule Confirmed With SCAC; Soccer Season Closed on New Athletic Field

Bolstered by returning lettermen and some added height, Bryan's 1966-67 basketball team is looking forward to a more successful season this year, hoping to better the 7-13 record posted last year.

This year, Bryan is one of eight colleges in the new Southern Christian Athletic Conference. Thirteen of the scheduled 22 games will be conference contests. The conference champions will be determined in a tourney to be held March 1-3 at Tennessee Temple College in Chattanooga, Tenn. The strongest teams in the conference so far include Lee College of Cleveland, Tenn., Tennessee Temple and Bryan.

The returning lettermen who should provide the necessary spark for this year's Lions are John Burns, a senior from Hamilton, Ohio; Dave Gerard, a sophomore from Greensburg, Pa.; Craig Chapman, a sophomore from Dayton, Tenn.; and Joe Coats, a senior from Emmett, Idaho.

In addition, several freshmen and transfer students will add the depth needed to round out the team.

In other sports news, Bryan's soccer team fought hard throughout this season, but ended with a 2-6-4 record. The team will lose several players this year because of graduation. These include co-captains John Stone and Russ Porcella, outstanding defensive men, Bill Joyner, Wayne Brooks, and John deRosset. Wingman Jim Booth and Bob Andrews will also be absent from next year's Lion squad as will key reserve man, David Henry.

Coach Jack Wells hopes, however, that next year's team will be able to better this year's record. Veteran goalie Dave Gerard will head up the team, aided by such promising players as Allan Graham, Randy Travis, David Amiralian, Bill Chaplin, and Paul Timblin.

The enlarged athletic field, which accommodated the soccer games on Bryan's own campus this year greatly enhanced spectator participation as well as player convenience. The field also serves for physical education classes and should be in good condition for baseball next spring.

Student Guests Invited For Weekend at College February 10-12, 1967

The annual student guest weekend at Bryan is scheduled for February 10-12 under the supervision of Miss Zelpha Russell, director of admissions. Invitations are issued to high school juniors, seniors and graduates to share college life for a weekend as guests of the school.

Students will be housed in the new dormitories and sample the meals prepared this year by the Professional Food Service Management in the new cafeteria. Guests are invited to arrive Friday afternoon or as soon thereafter as possible.

The program on Saturday will include introductions of the college faculty and a chapel service. In the afternoon the Bryan Lions basketball team will compete with Emmanuel College in the local high school gymnasium. A highlight of the day will be the Sweetheart banquet Saturday evening.

Because of the large number of guests who usually participate in this weekend, it is necessary to limit the invitations to the groups mentioned above who have not attended a similar event at the college before.

Reservation cards will be sent in January to prospective students on the college mailing list. Further inquiries may be addressed to Miss Zelpha Russell.

Musical Tours Planned

The annual spring vacation Concert Choir tour is planned to begin in the Atlanta area Good Friday evening, March 24, and conclude in Memphis, Tennessee, Sunday evening, April 2, with engagements at intermediate points in northeast Florida and Mississippi. The present 50-voice choir will be reduced to approximately 35 persons for the spring tour. The Choir will be taking a number of pre-tour Sunday evening engagements in East Tennessee, beginning the latter part of February and will also be participating in the Choral Festival at Toccoa, Georgia, April 28 and 29.

The annual Gospel Messenger spring tour is tentatively planned to include appointments in Georgia, Alabama and Florida. The spring team is a combination brass-vocal ensemble.

The summer Gospel Messenger team is being offered for engagements in Kentucky, Ohio, Michigan, Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Virginia, and West Virginia.

Some tentative commitments have been made for the spring tours, but planning for the summer tour is just beginning. Anyone who is interested in an engagement in any of the general areas outlined for the tours should write immediately to the Director of Public Relations, Bryan College, Dayton, Tennessee 37321.
